

1. Given that I am on the homepage when I click to the calendar page I will see a display of a calendar with six events on the given month
 - a. This test was met and the actual and expected outcomes were the same. On this page, there was an image of a calendar displaying various meeting times for the month of december
2. Given I'm on the homepage when I go to the contact us page I will see information about four officers along with their pictures
 - a. The "contact us" page was renamed to be "officers", however there are still four officers displayed on the page
3. When I'm on the homepage when I click the recipe page then I will see two examples of recipes and three links to other websites when I click one of the links then I will be redirected to another web page with instructions for a recipe
 - a. The expected and actual outcomes for this test were the same, thus the test was accomplished. All the links are functional and the user gets redirected to third party websites that display instructions for different recipes
4. Given I am on the RVA cooking club home page when I click the links on the navigation bar then I will be directed to the various pages within the website
 - a. All tabs on the nav bar are functional and the user gets directed to the correct corresponding page.
5. Given I'm on the contact us page When I am on a specific officers profile then I will see an email and a phone number for them
 - a. On the Officers page, each officer has both an email and a cell phone number at the end of their short bios
6. Given I'm on the recipes page when I look at the recipes then I should see pictures of what I will be attempting to cook
 - a. This test failed, as there are no pictures on the recipes page. When I tried to add pictures to this page, I was having a hard time figuring out the margins and padding. The overall look of the website looked better without the pictures in the end
7. Given I am on the homepage when I go through the various pages of the website then I will see that this club is professional and established
 - a. This test was accomplished. All pages of the website have a consistent color and layout theme and font leading it to look professional.
8. Given I'm on the calendar page when I click the time the meeting displayed on the calendar then I will be redirected to a zoom waiting room
 - a. This test was not accomplished. The calendar that is displayed on this page is an image, thus I was unable to place functional links on it. I did, however, place a zoom link under the page.
9. Given I'm on the homepage when I read the club history then I will gain more knowledge about this organization and feel need to be a part of it
 - a. The expected outcome of this was met as there is a brief history of the club on homepage.
10. Give a dime on the homepage when I go to the section with the mission statement and read it then I will be more persuaded into joining the club.
 - a. The home page includes a short mission statement that welcomes the public to join the club.